DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES

[illegible] type of democracy announced by [illegible] uniformly followed and [illegible] has not hesitated to [illegible] public officials when in its judgment [illegible] those principles. And professing [illegible] faith on measures of great [illegible] people have originated with us and [illegible] to a successful adoption by the [illegible] party in the state and nation. It was [illegible] agitation and discussion that public [illegible] called to the corrupt courses of the [illegible] party in squandering the public domain [illegible] 180,000,000 acres of public land to [illegible] and other companies. Thus far [illegible] resulted in drawing attention to the [illegible] reduction of duties as will [illegible] for the requirements of the [illegible] at the same time afford the [illegible] necessary to American labor. We [illegible] at all times a reduction of taxation [illegible] and federal. In order that [illegible] of the people should be lessened [illegible] local self government [illegible] the cardinal principles of democracy [illegible] Hall. We have differed from the [illegible] to the application of these [illegible] of government because in our judgment democracy is where the least possible [illegible] with the proper execution of the [illegible] from the people and lodged with their [illegible]. We have at all times opposed [illegible] power as dangerous to our republican [illegible] and have not hesitated to condemn un[illegible] and undemocratic interference [illegible] and executive in our municipal [illegible] opposition to the abridgment of the pow[illegible] of our city would have been just [illegible] had the common council been as [illegible] as it was democratic, and no [illegible] public meeting presided over [illegible] advocating the passage of this and [illegible] measures, under the deluding [illegible] could be blind to the true intent of that legislation

[illegible]ND'S ELECTION AS GOVERNOR

[illegible] the cause of anti monopoly [illegible] in the ensuing campaign of 1882 the [illegible] the triumphant election of the present [illegible] the state. It is true that dissension [illegible] adversaries the republicans had much [illegible] the great majority which he received, but [illegible] feeling in the breasts of thousands of [illegible] against the republican party for its [illegible] and monopolistic legislation caused [illegible] voters to ally themselves with [illegible] party thereby protesting against [illegible]. It is no exaggeration to say it [illegible] that the drift of existing laws was [illegible] rather than elevate labor, that the [illegible] of the government was being used [illegible] the interests of the employer [illegible] at the expense of the [illegible]. That these opinions were [illegible] substantial and incontrovertible grounds [illegible] the emanations of the minds of dream[illegible] who sought to dupe their ignorant [illegible] followers, the candid observer must [illegible] neighboring republican state the rights [illegible] peaceably assemble was invaded, and [illegible] of the commonwealth was used tyran[illegible] the unreasonable demands of capi[illegible] of the country generally opposed [illegible] but no harsh criticism appeared [illegible] capitalists and corporations who closed [illegible] against workingmen or operatives [illegible] over production so that the returns of [illegible] not be diminished

[illegible] of affairs the eyes of the wage [illegible] turned to the democratic party and [illegible] cast their lot with it. They expected [illegible] forward for their confidence and the [illegible] legislation as would ameliorate their [illegible]. The people of this city demanded to have [illegible] railroad corporations confined to legiti[illegible] for the capital invested in the valuable [illegible] which was conferred on them by the city. After a prolonged struggle with all the [illegible] that capital can employ, labor secured a [illegible] the legislature only to be thwarted by a [illegible] chamber [illegible] the adoption of a law which would [illegible] the prison authorities of the state [illegible] convicts so as to bring them into [illegible] with honest industry. The [illegible] passed the assembly, but it was [illegible] the senate by republicans and [illegible] the pledges made [illegible] by the efforts of the [illegible] through one of its senators, [illegible] passed and [illegible] by the governor to [illegible] tion of the contract sys[illegible] to the voters of the state and [illegible] by a majority of [illegible] that hundreds of [illegible] the proposition were [illegible] speakers and members [illegible] central committee in order [illegible] Treasure [illegible] hours of labor of car drivers [illegible] passed the legislature but was [illegible] vetoed and killed, thereby contin[illegible] hardships of honest overworked men [illegible] and mechanics of the state sought [illegible] themselves from loss at the hands of dis[illegible] and employers and caused to be [illegible] by the legislature giving the lien of [illegible] and laborer priority over all others [illegible] the same fate

WHY CLEVELAND WAS OPPOSED

THE NOMINEES ENDORSED

The candidates of the democratic party having been nominated in national convention [illegible] and unbroken record [illegible] our organ[illegible] of the majority of the [illegible] party [illegible] we believe [illegible]. We believe [illegible] the great democratic party [illegible] against the [illegible] the nominees of the [illegible] party for [illegible] and vice president [illegible] at Chicago July [illegible] 1884 [illegible] the following [illegible]

"Resolved, That [illegible] the democratic republican [illegible] of the city and county of New York in Tammany hall assembled hereby ratify [illegible] the nominations by the national democratic convention held in Chicago July [illegible] 1884 for president Grover Cleveland of New York, for vice president Thomas A. Hendricks of Indiana and hereby pledge ourselves to the earnest and cordial support of the candidates nominated."

APPLAUSE AND HISSES

Applause and hisses greeted the reading of the [illegible] it was doubtful which [illegible] but finally the cheers had the best of it. In moving the adoption of the address General Spinola said the wheeling into line of Tammany hall [illegible] the election of the Chicago candidates. The democrats of the country must also wheel into line. It was possible [illegible] at this late date [illegible] victory from the jaws of defeat.

When General Spinola sat down ex Senator Thomas F. Grady demanded recognition by the chair. Grady was cheered even more than Kelly had been earlier. The chairman pounded the table [illegible] in vain. [illegible] quiet. During the uproar Grady took a position [illegible] near the chair. He was at last permitted to proceed. After his first sentence he was again loudly applauded and rounds of applause punctuated his entire speech.

SENATOR GRADY PROTESTS

Senator Grady rising to protest against the passage of this resolution made a long speech [illegible] the whole political career of Cleveland and quoted freely from the columns of the [illegible] and the World in the past in support of the position he (Grady) had now taken. In the course of his speech Grady said: "Neither in the nomination of the ticket [illegible] in the methods by which it was brought about is there the slightest claim upon this [illegible] of democratic voters for its support. A [illegible] majority of the delegates to the convention who named Cleveland as their choice represented republican constituencies. A number of delegates who openly and earnestly opposed his nomination were [illegible] their protests as favorable to the candidate [illegible] every influence that could be employed or engineered by the monopolists who have secured control of the party management was [illegible] to make him the candidate and as you well know delegates who left their homes [illegible] their professions hostile to his candidacy as inviting certain defeat to the party gave evidence [illegible] after their arrival at Chicago of a change of heart which only the most simple and charitable have ascribed to pure and worthy motives. The expressed design of the men who urged his nomination was to conciliate the disgruntled republicans, not to please the democrats. Reserving to myself the supreme right of a citizen in exercising the acts of sovereignty I decline to prostitute my prerogative to the [illegible] purposes of party managers. Suffrage has been bestowed on me by the institutions of my country that it may be exercised for my country's welfare."

On the conclusion of the speeches the chairman ordered the secretary to call the roll on the adoption of the resolution. As he read the names only a small portion of the members answered to their names. When the name of ex Assemblyman Roesch was called he arose and protested against the proceedings. He was peremptorily called to order. The result of the vote was 810 ayes and 87 nays.

A committee was then appointed to make arrangements for a grand ratification meeting and after the call for primary elections was read the meeting adjourned.

THE THURSDAY NIGHT MEETING

New York, Sept 12.—[Special]—At the Tammany hall meeting last evening there was a presentation of an ox which will be killed at the coming barbecue on the 8th of October. No other device appeared on the banner. Hugh J. Mohan from California was the first speaker. "When I came here," said Mohan, "I thought to see Mrs. Lockwood on top of that ox. I was agreeably disappointed when I saw the old flag of Tammany flying over the street. Tammany is not only an institution of the city and state of New York, but all along the Pacific coast and throughout California we meet members from Tammany Hall who have left an impression upon that great section of the Union. When the welfare of the democratic party was at stake there has never been a question of the fidelity of the gentleman now at the head of that society and it is gratifying to see after all he has suffered that he is now trying to bring harmony out of confusion and disorder for the purpose of electing Cleveland and Hendricks. The gentleman who stands before the people, Grover Cleveland—"

A voice—Who nominated him?

Mohan—The national convention.

Another voice—The unit rule.

The speaker then went on to show that Blaine was all things to all men and on all sides of every question. He stepped down amid applause. There was no demonstration for Cleveland. The Star says the meeting after giving three cheers for Tammany and the ox adjourned.

POLITICAL POINTS

WHY INGERSOLL IS NOT WORKING FOR BLAINE

New York, Sept 12.—[Special]—The Sun prints a special from Old Orchard, Maine, giving the following reasons why Robert Ingersoll withholds his support from Blaine. After the "plumed knight" speech by Ingersoll at Cincinnati, Blaine was a guest at Ingersoll's house, in Peoria, and made a speech to the people from the threshold of the great agnostic's house. Without making reference to [illegible] Ingersoll sought under two administrations recognition for his services as a campaign orator. He said to Hayes that he wanted merely some recognition. He wanted the Berlin mission to be offered to him and he distinctly said he would not accept. Hayes was advised by Evarts against any recognition of Ingersoll. Hayes' position was that Ingersoll's agnosticism made him a political outcast. Ingersoll was not satisfied with Blaine's help then. He was not really [illegible] but when it came to Garfield's administration controlled by his two personal friends Garfield and Blaine, the same policy of non recognition was pursued. Then Ingersoll, who is very sensitive, withdrew forever from politics and swore he would never take any part for any person or party. A friend of both Blaine and Ingersoll and a warm sympathizer in the latter's religious views and who approved his course in keeping out of politics says: "Under what obligation is Blaine to do anything for Ingersoll? The contrast is more than even between them. The nomination of Blaine gave Ingersoll an opportunity to lift himself from obscurity into national position, that notice has given him the greatest success of the day as a lecturer. If Ingersoll had not [illegible] his war up [illegible] after the nation had [illegible] him at Cincinnati he might have [illegible] favorite [illegible] but he preferred to follow [illegible] the part that [illegible] Blaine [illegible] fully appreciates [illegible] but [illegible] a churchman to [illegible] argument of the day."

THE SUN ON THE MAINE ELECTION

New York, Sept. 12.—[Special]—The Sun has the following on the result of the Maine election: "A comparison shows that the only effect of the independent revolt has been to increase the strength of the republican ticket, both absolutely and relatively and that the charms of Cleveland's personal character have operated to the detriment rather than to the advantage of the democratic canvass. Nor is it philosophical to assume that the fact that Blaine is a Maine man must have given [illegible] to his cause at home. Those of our disappointed [illegible]

Plowing and seeding for next year's [illegible] wheat has already been commenced in [illegible] county.

The Colfax jail is occupied by a delightful trio. One stole a cow, one sold liquor to Indians and the other whipped his wife.

A new telegraphic cable has just been successfully laid across Hood's canal and communication with Port Townsend restored again.

The potato crop in Clarke county is immense and the quality fine, but there is little or no sale for potatoes in large amounts this season.

Vancouver paper: The rumor that heavy forest fires are prevailing back of Vancouver is destitute of truth. There will be no heavy fires this year in any section of the country.

A new town called Huron is springing up where the railroad leaves the Columbia river on the Yakima side above Ainsworth. They have several saloons and boarding houses for a nest egg.

Tacoma paper: A large number of white people, especially women, are returning from the hop fields up the valley, saying that the accommodations for living are not good enough for them.

Two of the soldiers arrested at Vancouver for destroying and defacing the Catholic church property have been tried before Justice Smith and were fined $10 each. The other two accused were discharged.

Governor Squire of Washington territory received a dispatch Thursday from his wife, stating that she had so far recovered from her recent accident as to be able to be about again. The accident will, however, postpone her trip west some two months.

A Seattle paper says: Judging from the present outlook the women of King county will take an active part in the approaching election. Every woman who owns a town lot or a sewing machine is taxed for it and why should she not have a voice in saying who shall administer the laws of the county and territory?

A Dayton exchange says: The young boys of Dayton who are allowed to run at large in the streets are developing qualities that will land them in the penitentiary as sure as fate unless they are stayed by the guiding hands of their parents. The latest piece of deviltry committed by them was to steal ten door keys from the new school house.

Ship Southern Chief, which was sunk in Royal Roads two years ago and afterwards raised and for a long time past at Esquimalt, has been brought over to Port Blakely where she will be refitted and loaded. A new and large lifeboat which has been awaiting her here for a month past was yesterday towed over to Port Blakely by the Success for the ship.

Recently numerous complaints have been made about Seattle and throughout King county in regard to the stealing of cattle. Says a Seattle paper: A number of townsfolk have lost their family cows while farmers here and there have lost an animal, no trace ever being got of any of them after their disappearance. The heaviest loser of whom we have heard has been D. A. Neeley, who on Monday night last had his corral broken open and one milch cow and eleven 2-year olds driven out and off. He has hunted diligently for his animals but so far without effect.

The brakeman young who had both feet cut off by a train on the Oregon Pacific road last week is improving and it is thought will recover.

The board of directors of the Washington county agricultural society have postponed the fair to Tuesday, October 7th, for the reason that the farmers will not have their harvest completed in time on account of the late rains.

The recent heavy rains have materially interfered with the harvesting of grain on the Siletz reservation. A considerable portion of the grain is still standing in the shock and as it is still raining it will be a total loss and a serious one to the Indians.

Mr. W. S. Ayers died at the residence of Mr. A. D. Runnels at North Yamhill, on Monday, September 8th, aged 70 years. It may be that some of it is [illegible] but in any event it will not be fit for [illegible]. The amount in this county of threshed is variously estimated from a fifth to a third of the crop. except to put something good into it, is an excellent motto for the gossip and the sufferer from catarrh. But while the gossip is practically incurable, there is no excuse for anyone's suffering longer from catarrh. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is an unfailing cure for that offensive disease. It heals the diseased membrane, and removes the dull and depressed sensations which always attend catarrh. A short trial of this valuable preparation will make the sufferer feel like a new being.

I have here a list of [illegible] Irish voters who are [illegible] and have promised to support Blaine. These names are from a single small city. One hundred and twenty-eight delegates from one county have pledged themselves to attend the convention at Cincinnati on the last day of September. I am receiving each day large lists of names from Ohio. The best of feeling between the Irish and Germans prevails. They will unite to defeat this common enemy."

John F. Finerty, elected to congress as a democrat from Chicago two years ago, now loves the party so well that he will not promise to support its presidential nominees. Consequently he was not renominated by the district convention held on the 5th inst. And still we are assured that there are no democrats who will not vote for Cleveland. But Finerty will run as an independent, and as he is an extremely popular Irishman and is running in a district where the Irish vote is very strong, he will be elected. Finerty and his friends support Blaine.

OUR CORRESPONDENT [illegible]

It is a very [illegible] He said several weeks ago I think I [illegible] as a singular consideration that while the peo[illegible] of the metropolitan [illegible] immensely proud of its [illegible] characteristics. Anything peculiarly San Francisco even if it be smooth or bad is held [illegible] The people have a sort of pride in [illegible] and keep the [illegible] of local pride [illegible] the city has long been [illegible]. Just as we in talking with a stranger always swing the conversation round to [illegible] the loyal resident of San Francisco [illegible] a direct attention to [illegible] unspeakable badness of [illegible] fast town. [illegible] properly explore the fact [illegible] but he fails [illegible] to [illegible] the [illegible] San Francisco [illegible] He will tell mysteriously [illegible] horrors [illegible] common [illegible] with [illegible] The [illegible] has [illegible] his doing [illegible] returning a few days ago [illegible] spent in the east and by way of greeting [illegible] gave [illegible] the [illegible] morality of San Francisco, and the [illegible] world. He said that compared with New [illegible] city and Boston, San Francisco was a seat of Christian virtues and much more to the same purpose and all with the grace of a man who fancies himself doing something handsome. The lecture was fully reported in the papers, [illegible] a two days wonder. The compliment was repu[illegible] all over town with spirit and the newspapers falling in with the popular indignation have criticised the reverend gentleman severely. Here is a sample paragraph from the Post: For Flat and the slums and views of San Francisco under the very shadow of churches within sound of pulpit and altar know far too much to believe this ministerial taffy. San Francisco is bad very bad, a regular [illegible] among cities, and she doesn't want the world to cease to remember it.

Dr. Barrows for it was he fell into a common error of the cloth. He lectured upon a subject of which by reason of his profession and pious walk in life he could not possibly be well informed. A minister in his travels as at home naturally associates with people of his own profession and character and to their credit and to his own it may be said that they know little of the gross phases of life—nothing at all in fact except by hearsay. A clergyman visiting Portland would not likely learn all about the state of wickedness in our city by talking with Mr. Plummer, Dr. Lindsley and Deacon Parrish. A whisky drummer would learn more in a single night than all three gentlemen could discover were they to devote an entire summer's vacation to moral inquiry.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has demonstrated its power of cure for all diseases of the blood.

The Harpooner's Story.

New Bedford, June 1, 1883.

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co.—Twenty years ago I was a harpooner in the North Pacific, when five others of the crew and myself were laid up with scurvy. Our bodies were bloated, gums swollen and bleeding, teeth loose, purple blotches all over us, and our breath seemed rotten. Take it by and large we were pretty badly off. All our lime juice was accidentally destroyed, but the captain had a couple dozen bottles of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA and gave us that. We recovered on it quicker than I have ever seen men brought out by any other treatment for scurvy, and I've seen a good deal of it. Seeing no mention in your Almanac of your Sarsaparilla being good for scurvy, I thought you ought to know of this, and so send you the facts.

Respectfully yours, RALPH V. WINGATE.

The Trooper's Experience.

Masern, Basutoland (S. Africa,) March 7, 1883.

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co.—Gentlemen: I have much pleasure to testify to the great value of your Sarsaparilla. We have been stationed here for over two years, during which time we had to live in tents. Being under canvas for such a time brought on what is called in this country "veldt-sores." I had those sores for some time. I was advised to take your Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which made my sores disappear rapidly, and I am now quite well.

Yours truly, T. E. BODEY,

Trooper, Cape Mounted Riflemen.

SATURDAY MORNING. SEPT. 13, 1884.

A LOW POLITICIAN.

It is a proper source both of regret and of satisfaction that Mr. Hendricks is making the kind of speeches he has chosen to deliver in the present canvass. Of regret, that a candidate for so high an office should pitch his remarks in a key addressed only to ignorance and vileness, and of satisfaction that as he is the first candidate for so high an office who has ever done a thing of this kind, so the disgust his performances excite will probably make him the last. He does not address a single word to the intelligence of the people. All his arguments are addressed to their ignorance, their prejudices or their low appetites. He either attempts to mislead them when he attributes the low price of wheat to the false statement that the vast sum of $400,000,000 is locked up in the national treasury and consequently there is no money to buy wheat with, or talks to them as "Dick" Gerdes talks to his little free whisky constituency in the first ward of Portland when he tells them that taxation and restriction of the liquor traffic is a violent interference with their "rights." The vices that flow from the liquor traffic Hendricks wants to maintain as "democratic principles," and he hopes to unite in support of this proposition all the worst elements of population throughout the country. To these he would add all the farmers whom he supposes do not know that the price of grain is regulated by the foreign market, which is now lower than it has been during more than one hundred years. But he underrates the intelligence of the farmers of the country as greatly as he overestimates the political importance of the classes who vend and swallow "rot gut," large as these classes are.

The speeches of Hendricks in this canvass—and he has already made many—show that he is incapable of any argument addressed to men's intelligence. All his appeals are directed to their ignorance or lower instincts—directed at them "below the middle," as one finely said who was describing the appeals of a similar demagogue. Another illustration of the manner of Hendricks is furnished by his talk about McSweeney, whom Mr. Blaine is accused of leaving in an English prison. The simple fact is and every one knows it who cares to know it that McSweeney had renounced his American citizenship, and was and now is an office holder under the British government in Ireland. It was not, therefore, in any proper sense the business of the American government to help him out of prison, though a good deal of correspondence took place about it both before and after Mr. Blaine's retirement from the office of secretary of state. It was through this correspondence that McSweeney's actual status became known. He once lived in San Francisco, where he was naturalized; but in 1876 he returned to Ireland, took up his residence in county Donegal, bought property, engaged in business, and accepted an elective office under the government which Hendricks says is so sorely oppressing him. He was arrested in 1881 for incendiary language used in a public speech. Then it was, five years after he had left America, had ceased to be an American citizen, and had accepted citizenship and office under the British crown, that he bethought himself of his former American citizenship, which he wanted to use to protect himself from offenses that the law of the country for which he had renounced his American allegiance denounces as crimes. There could be no greater absurdity. However, after a period of several months he was released but he still remains a citizen and resident of Ireland, and, as the people stand by him against the English government, he still holds elective office there. He is simply a British subject over whom Hendricks is wasting so much simulated sympathy, and Hendricks well knows it.

No man of high character—no truthful or self-respecting man—could possibly make the speeches that Hendricks makes, and the fact that he makes them not only discredits himself but is a proof of the low tone of the party of which he is the representative. In political matters there is not nor ever has been a single touch of honesty in the man. And this, let us hope for the credit of the American people, is why Hendricks, though often a candidate, has seldom met with success. He knows nothing whatever of the moral forces and higher movements of politics, but thinks it all sufficient to "dodge and palter in the shifts of lowness."

COMMERCIAL INCENDIARISM.

Since "hard times" shut down on the prosperous activities of the northwest fires have become much more than usually frequent. The connection between hard times and fires has not been in all cases merely suspected, since there is undoubted testimony in some cases to establish it. Many policies are being canceled in nearly all our towns and the suspicion that so widely prevails of interested incendiarism is disgraceful to the country. There is a belief, almost irresistible, that many of the fires that have taken place throughout the northwest during the last six months have been of criminal origin, and the insurance companies are acting upon that belief.

To a great extent the companies themselves, or rather their resident factors, have been culpable for the abuses which have become so prevalent here. Instead of adopting the uniform system of examining all property to be insured before issuing a policy, some insurance agents examine property and some do not. The recent Couch hotel fire was a case in point. The proprietor took out a policy for $2,000 in one of our insurance agencies, and two days later a clerk was sent down to examine the property. He reported that there was no more than $1200 worth of furniture in the house, whereupon the agent canceled the policy. The hotel man went off and got a policy for $1,500 and very soon came the fire. The company issuing the second policy had made no examination of the premises, and they caused Stapleton's arrest.

All this grows out of a careless way of doing business, coupled with an anxiety to issue policies without due safeguards to the companies represented here by local agents. There are some insurance men who will issue insurance on a red-hot stove, provided they could find a cool enough place to stand while writing the policy. A man who will issue a policy on property which he has not inspected is unfaithful to his employers. The public safety demands a more rigorous procedure. If the "fire-bugs" could only burn their own premises, the thing would then be bad enough; but as the flames communicate from premises purposely set on fire to the buildings occupied by thrifty and industrious tradesmen, something must be done to check it.

If it is suffered to go on unchecked for another year, a prosperous firm will have to hire all the adjoining property in the same block with itself, to keep rascally speculators in insurance policies from getting into the adjoining stores and burning them out. Ferret out and send about six or seven of these men who have made incendiarism an auxiliary of commercial life to the penitentiary for eight or ten years, and the rest will be satisfied to go into some more reputable occupation. There has been too much of this work going on for the past three months, and the better class of business men are thoroughly aroused and incensed over it. If the law does not hunt down and punish these scoundrels, there may be an association of citizens found to do it for them.

The New York Times has a long letter from Ohio on the political situation in that state which winds up as follows: "It must be admitted, after a careful survey of the whole field in Ohio, that the chances are in favor of a republican victory. The state has always been reliably republican in presidential years, and I have been unable to find sufficient evidence to convince me that there is enough dissatisfaction among republicans to make it uncertain. I may be mistaken, but I think with the exertions which will be made from now until the election the republicans will get from 10,000 to 15,000 majority."

HOW CITIES ARE OPPRESSED.

The people of New York and Kansas City are greatly excited because their respective common councils have granted valuable franchises to street railway companies without compensation. In New York responsible parties stood ready to pay into the public treasury $1,000,000 for a surface railroad franchise in lower Broadway, but the council, notwithstanding the mayor's veto, gave the right of way to another corporation for nothing. In Kansas City the conditions were the same, but the amount of money involved was, of course, considerably less. In both cases public meetings have been held to denounce the action of the aldermen, court proceedings have been begun to prevent the execution of the grants, and charges of bribery have been lodged against the officials. The meeting in New York, with the approval of Mayor Edson, requested him to name a committee of fifty citizens and taxpayers, to be known as the "city franchise committee," which committee may add to their own number, and shall be charged with the duties of protecting the franchises of the city; securing their value to the city treasury when sold; of bringing to justice the unfaithful officers who have attempted or shall attempt to give these franchises away; of breaking up the existing scheme to capture the franchise for a Broadway railroad, and generally of assisting the mayor in all practicable ways to protect and defend city property; and pledged to that committee an earnest and active support until their labors are crowned with success.

There is also in Chicago a slight agitation on the subject of franchises, aroused by the action of the West Chicago City railway company, which serves a population of about 400,000 people. The history of this street car company, says the Current, should teach the people never to part with another public franchise. About six years after the war, the war tax of 1 cent per fare was removed, and the company reduced its rates from 6 cents to 5. Things then ran along until about 1874, when the omnibus companies, which had previously been charging 10 cents a ride, lost their popularity and were forced to scramble for business. Thereupon the street car company began the sale of tickets for twenty-five rides at 70 cents. The omnibusses which were at the time patrolling the streets for passengers dropped their rate to 2 cents per fare, and for perhaps six months the people rode for less than 3 cents each. To protect its monopoly the street car company finally bought up every omnibus and nondescript public vehicle on the street, and for the last ten years has kept all such competition away. The tickets were raised in price to a dollar for twenty-five rides. Seven years passed in this way, when, one day, by a stroke of his pen, the superintendent "raised the taxes." Twenty-three rides were to be sold for a dollar and eleven for 50 cents. The daily press published the superintendent's reasons in fine type and said nothing about it elsewhere. Charmed with the tractable character of the people, the superintendent once more put on the screws, and now the price of a ticket is a dollar, but the number of rides is only twenty-two. These two changes from the twenty-five ride standard have imposed a tax on fully one-half of the regular passengers of about six dollars a year. The lessons taught by this history, says the Current, "are that the people have given away franchises which were in reality beyond price; that these franchises could even now be recovered at any price with profit to the people; that no private company should ever be given another charter; and that the state should exercise its sovereign power to protect a great city from the excesses of its rulers. A few thousand people, for the sake of riding for five cents, having once given over their streets, a succeeding population of half a million, with all the changed conditions of profit and loss, abide the bad bargain."

But another lesson of practical importance is that men with the least stake in the community should not be permitted to dominate their local legislatures. A city, in respect of its municipal government, is a business corporation. No one that is not a taxpayer is a member of the corporation and should have no vote in the election of its officers. If the character of city councils were fairly representative of the people who pay the taxes there would be few jobs and no bribery. As it is, the ward bummer usually has full sway. There is no reason why the common councils of our cities should not contain the best men in the corporation. A proper appreciation by all the people of the duties and responsibilities of citizenship would make these bodies an honor instead of a reproach—as many of them are—to the people for whom they act.

Fast horses and overfed swine used to be the main attractions at state and county fairs. But now horse thieves, murderers and noble red men who have scalped the greatest number of white men, are the objects that draw. The other day Mr. Frank James, the noted bandit, was imported to a Missouri fair, and all the ladies stopped and gazed with open-eyed admiration at the unhung hero. A whole wagon load of noted Sioux Indians, whose main commendation is that they took part in the Custer massacre, shine as special stars at the Minneapolis fair. There are always plenty of people who would rather see a hen with three legs than one with two, and men of abnormal development possess like attractions for many.

Competitive examinations have begun to attract attention in England by their evils as well as by their advantages. They have bred a system of cramming in the public service which puts weak men with strong memories ahead of strong men with weak memories. Public school and college endowments, scholarships and the like, intended to aid poor men, were thrown open to competition with a flourish of trumpets and the practical result is that these places are monopolized by the sons of men rich enough to pay for the best training. This "has resulted," as the London Times says, "in depriving the poorer classes of their rights for the benefit of the wealthier."

The Richmond Dispatch desires northern people to note the fact that "leading colored democrats" are complained of for preventing the organization of a republican mass meeting in Petersburg by their riotous conduct, as a proof of the existence of negroes in the south who are democrats. Their conduct would certainly seem to be proof of it in this instance.

The course of the present campaign is giving a wonderful push to the circulation of the New York Tribune. It is now said to have a larger circulation than at any other period of its long history, and it is certainly worthy of its success.

CITY.

[illegible] ALONG.—The taking of testimony in the case of Holladay vs. Holladay is progressing slowly but surely, and it bids fair to rival the great historical case of Jarndyce vs. Jarndyce. The information extracted from Joe Holladay so far covers [illegible] pages of legal cap, and they haven't got to bedrock yet. This statement will surprise many who have known Joe for some time, and never suspected him of being such a mine of information. If Ben's lawyers ever get Joe pumped dry then Tom Strong will take a grab at him on cross-examination, and he will probably be more free with his chin when testifying in his own favor. It is not likely that this part of his statement can be crowded into less than 2000 pages of legal cap. And then there is Ben to be heard, and our local stationers might just as well order a few carloads of paper at once and be prepared. It would have saved some time, trouble and expense if both Joe and Ben had written a book concerning the suit.

ARRESTED FOR BURGLARY.—Emanuel Bernand, a swarthy, villainous looking fellow, employed at the rock crusher at the head of Fifth street, was arrested yesterday on a charge of burglary. He is accused of breaking into the residence of Mrs. Brown, near the old Jewish cemetery, on Thursday night. Mrs. Brown is a widow and she and her child are the sole occupants of the house and the sight of this ferocious-looking villain greatly frightened them. Bernandz, who is a dangerous man when drinking, has been up in the police court a number of times. He heard that policemen Wing and Branch were looking for him yesterday and swore that he could not and would not be taken by the whole police force and to make his words good came in and delivered himself up. If the charge made against him is sustained he should and probably will be severely punished.

WOULD NOT PAY HIS FARE.—Captain Yarneburg, master of the steamer Sellwood, is into trouble for doing his duty. A day or two since a boy named Higgins, aged about 18 years refused to pay his fare, only fifteen cents, to Sellwood, so the captain told him to get off. This he refused to do, and he held firmly to one of the stanchions, from which he had to be moved by force, during which his coat was torn. After he had been escorted to the gang plank, Higgins concluded to pay his fare, and he did so. Not only so he had the captain arrested in Justice Davis' court on a charge of assault and battery. The case was continued until to-day. Robert Walter, an owner of the boat, who was rather saucy to Constable Higley when he came to the boat to arrest the captain, was hauled up before Justice Davis and fined $10.

CATHOLIC MISSION.—To-morrow morning, during high mass, commencing at 10:30 o'clock A. M., Rev. Father Bouchard, S. J., of San Francisco, will open a mission in St. Lawrence's Catholic church, on Third and Sherman streets, to be continued during the following week, closing Sunday evening, the 21st inst. The services of the mission will consist in a mass every morning at 8 o'clock, after which the great missionary will preach, and give a sermon every evening at half past 7 o'clock, after which solemn benediction will take place. Rev. Bouchard is an eloquent, pleasing and scholarly orator, and one of the best exponents of the doctrines pertaining to the Catholic faith. It will repay any one, no matter of what creed, to hear this able speaker and drink at the fountain of his glowing eloquence.

NEW WHEELS.—Multnomah engine company, No. [illegible] has received from the Silsby Manufacturing Co. a new set of wheels for their engine. No one seems to know who ordered the wheels or who is to pay for them. The engine was ordered in the days of the volunteer fire department, and the wheels were not stout enough to stand the strain when horses were put on it, and they became badly dished and twisted out of shape. The company wanted the manufacturers to furnish a new set of wheels, but they thought they ought to be paid half the price of them. The wheels arrived several days since, and were to-day put on the engine, and it yet remains to be seen who is to foot the bill.

DEXTER WINS.—Dexter, the noted Oregon trotting stallion, that was sent up to Helena to enter for a race a few days ago, has covered himself with fresh laurels and been the instrument of putting numerous dollars into the pocket of his owner. News was received here yesterday that Dexter had won the race. No particulars were furnished. All that is known is: The race was best three in five, mile heats, for a purse of $1000. What heats were won by Dexter is not stated. The best time made during the race was 2:32. To-day there will be another trotting contest, three best in five, mile heats, for a purse of $1000. This race will be free for all. Dexter has been entered, and will probably show his competitors the color of his heels.

AFTER DUCKS.—The weather during the past week has not been favorable for farmers, but it has been "good weather for ducks." The number of gulls seen on the river here for some days past show that there has been rough weather on the coast, and rough weather "brings in" the ducks. A party of hunters will visit Sauvie's island to-morrow and hope to find game in abundance. Some of the boys cannot wait for Sunday and are already starting out to get among their webfooted prey. Councilman Douglas and George Curry left yesterday for Falls' place and expect to bring home a whole wagon load of ducks and geese.

BUSY STEVEDORES.—The prevailing dullness along shore has at last been broken, and there was more life yesterday among shipping than has been seen for many a day. Brown & McCabe had forces engaged at four ships as follows: Taking ballast out of the Kate F. Troop at the O. R. & N. warehouse, taking cargo out of the Griasdale at Mersey dock; putting stuffening into the Largo Law at Greenwich dock, and into the Agnes Sutherland at Montgomery's dock, Albina. The longshoremen who have had very short grass since the last shipping season, will now be able to feed for a short time on clover.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES.—On the 21st of December last B. F. Culver, an East Portland constable, arrested David L. Gee, a well-to-do farmer, residing on the Columbia river opposite Vancouver, on a charge of larceny by bailee. On the 7th of July Gee began suit in the state against Culver for $50,000 damages, claiming that the officer's act was done out of malice. The case came up for trial yesterday before Judge Smith and a jury, and was submitted just before evening adjournment. About 9 o'clock the jury brought in a sealed verdict, the judge having gone home.

VIGILANCE THREATENED FROM ROUGHS.—During the past ten days a number of ugly affrays have occurred among some hard characters in and about Hillsboro, and unoffending persons have been attacked. This week, in view of the lawlessness, a number of prominent men of the town organized a committee of safety to purge the town and county of certain lawless persons who are in the habit of insulting, abusing and beating quiet and peaceable citizens. A number of hard cases have been spotted and at the next outbreak a tight-rope performance will be exhibited.

MONTEFIORE CELEBRATION.—At a meeting of the Montefiore centenary committee, held this week, a programme was decided on which will in every way be worthy of the occasion—the centennial birthday of Sir Moses Montefiore. There will be a religious divine service in the forenoon, and in the evening a musical and literary programme of rare excellence will be offered in which all prominent officials and citizens will be invited to participate. The affair is in the hands of leading business men and representatives of the various Jewish organizations of the city.

RATES ON FLOUR REDUCED.—The O. R. & N. Co. have decided to reduce the rate on flour as well as wheat during the next thirty days. Following is a copy of the official circular relating to the matter: "In order to stimulate immediate movement, the board of directors have decided to make a reduction of one dollar per ton in rate upon wheat and flour in carload lots, from all points on the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company's lines east of The Dalles, including Palouse branch, to Portland. This arrangement good until October 15th." [illegible]

IRISH BLAINE AND LOGAN CLUB.—Last night a regular meeting of the Irish American Blaine and Logan league was held at Masonic hall. Over 100 members were present and the greatest enthusiasm was manifested throughout. A stirring address was made by Mr. T. A. [illegible], who was frequently applauded. At the conclusion cheers for the republican candidates were [illegible] for [illegible] [illegible] Irishmen who have [illegible] the club roll, [illegible]

[illegible] SOCIETY.—[illegible] at the [illegible] F. E. Ash, [illegible] a ladies' [illegible] society. A constitution and by-laws were adopted, and the following officers elected: President, Mrs. [illegible]; vice president, Mrs. L. J. Buchanan; secretary, Miss [illegible] Miller; treasurer, Miss Annie Clarke. The [illegible] ladies of the church will unite in the labors of this new society, which certainly insures success. [illegible] work.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—The public schools will reopen Monday morning, and it is expected that 3000 children will be in attendance before the close of the week. A meeting of the principals, vice-principals and all the teachers is called for 10 o'clock this morning to meet the city superintendent and discuss informally the year's work. All the buildings are in readiness for the pupils.

PARTY POVERTY.—Yesterday the boys down in Couch were fitting up a democratic club room on D street next door to the O. R. & N. building. Justice Bushwiler is acting as legal and spiritual adviser to the club, and occasionally offers suggestions as to decorations. Hon. D. P. Thompson happened along in the afternoon and Bush jestingly asked him whether he wouldn't subscribe something to help the cause along. Mr. Thompson begged off until after the election, and remarked incidentally that this was not the first request of the sort. [illegible] Salem," he said, "after Slater had been [illegible] senator, [illegible] give Slater [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] every thing [illegible] Slater, [illegible]

[illegible] him, who had been [illegible] [illegible]

NOT INDICTED.—The grand jury yesterday returned "not a true bill" in the case of [illegible], charged with stealing a bridge valued at $[illegible] from [illegible] Morrison [illegible] of July, and in the case of [illegible] Sims, charged with [illegible] defamation.

SCHOOL BOARD.

Rules Adopted for the Government of Vice Principals—Regulations for the Library.

A regular meeting of the board of school directors was held yesterday afternoon, all members present except Mr. Wetherbee.

The following claims were ordered paid:

Janitors	$[illegible]	H. of Grandell	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible] Swigert & Tyson	[illegible]

Hearst [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	H. Prescott	[illegible]

The following rules pertaining to vice principals were adopted:

Rule 72.—Vice principals shall be subject to all the general regulations of rules 21 to 29 inclusive. They shall be [illegible] teachers and shall perform such other assistance as shall be designated by the city superintendent and the respective principals, such work to be so distributed that each principal shall have as nearly as possible the same amount of assistance from the vice principals. While [illegible] [illegible] classes with principals they exercise the same authority as is delegated by these rules to assistant teachers.

The matter of elective studies in the high school was, upon motion, referred to the [illegible] committee, for report at the first meeting of the board in October.

The following recommendations of superintendent Crawford relative to the use of the library were adopted:

First, That the doors leading to the library be secured by the best night locks and the keys placed in the custody of the librarian. She can distribute these keys as she thinks best, one each to the principal and the janitor of the Central school, retaining the others herself.

Second, That teachers wishing to obtain books [illegible] apply to the principal of the central school only, and he be held responsible for the issuing of the same, and hand the record to the librarian each week for regular entry.

Third, That pupils desiring to draw books at other times than the regular hours must obtain written orders from their respective principals, these orders to be filed by the principal of the Central school and delivered to the librarian for permanent record.

Fourth, That teachers or pupils who wish to use the library for reading or for reference during the week shall obtain special permit from the principal of the Central school, and he shall require [illegible] to replace all books and periodicals on the shelves in their proper places.

Adjourned.

BRIEF MENTION.

The new Stark street ferry will be launched next week.

A. F. Neef has returned to the city, having closed out at Astoria.

Mr. G. W. Pittock has been appointed notary public for Oregon.

Alonzo Gesner, agent of the Warm Springs Indian reservation, is in the city.

The family of Dr. G. M. Wells have returned to their residence, 109 [illegible] street.

A New York paper reports Frisbie, the bank thief, as saying that the amount he took was $7,500.

John A. Humphrey & Co., formerly of Oregon City, have leased the Milwaukie (Standard) flour mills.

F. T. Merrill, Burt Hatch and several others of the Oregon bicycle club will go to Salem this afternoon.

District Attorney Hearst mourns the loss of a meerschaum after—the finest "spring" in Oregon, so he claims.

The sidewalk on A street, between First and Second, is in a dangerous condition, and should be attended to at once.

The remains of Miss [illegible] Hare will be removed from the residence of [illegible] Hare to [illegible] steamer at [illegible] to-day.

[illegible] Band of Hope No. 1 will hold their next meeting to-day at 2:30 P. M., in [illegible] hall. All members are requested to be present.

The case of Tim Stapleton, charged with arson came up in the police court yesterday. He waived examination and was bound over in the sum of $[illegible].

Long Nichols was arrested yesterday for having assaulted Ross Hell with a shotgun. The affair occurred May 28, near Mount Zion, about six miles from the city.

A $5,000 stock of fall millinery goods, latest styles, will be sold by Sheriff Jordan at 10 o'clock this forenoon at McGuskin's warehouse, on Front street, between D and E.

All members of Portland Band of Hope are requested to meet this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the hall of the W. C. T. U., on Fifth street near Alder, to practice for the concert to take place next Wednesday evening. A full attendance is desired.

The work on the new elevated roadway across the Columbia slough on the Oregon side progresses very slowly. The bents are only one-third up at this time, and none of the planking on yet. It will be late in October before the road can be made ready for travel.

There is on exhibition at A. Ferrara's store a bunch of plums which excites the wonder and admiration of all who see it. The fruit is as large as a pheasant's egg, and on a piece of limb about ten inches in length are seventy-five plums so arranged as to resemble a mammoth cluster of grapes. It is probable the bunch will be sent to the New Orleans exposition.

During his late visit to Europe W. D. Ayer bought a lot of Faberline and Faience ware, consisting of vases, plaques, etc., decorated with fruits, flowers and foliage, and hand painted. It is very handsome, and if Mr. Ayer has it placed in his residence he will have the finest show of bric-a-brac in the city. It will probably be placed on exhibition for the benefit of the public, especially esthetics.

NEWS FROM COEUR D'ALENE.

Ainsworth & Co.'s bank in this city yesterday received from W. J. Hawkins, in charge of their branch at Eagle City, Idaho, 37 ounces of gold dust. It is a very handsome lot of coarse dust, there being among it a number of nuggets worth from $20 to $100. Parties wishing will have an opportunity to view it to-day, and it will be sent to San Francisco by steamer to-night.

The gold was sent down in charge of Messrs. H. T. Miller and John Treglohn, the former of Parker & Lacy of this city, the latter a mining expert of Alameda, California. They have been at the Coeur d'Alene mines for the past month and have made a thorough examination of them, and have formed very favorable opinions of their worth.

Mr. Treglohn says that the unfavorable accounts of the mines came from people who went in there last winter and came out without ever seeing the ground. He has in a vial gold worth $14 [illegible], washed from one pan of dirt, taken from the [illegible] claim, and he saw several other pans washed which yielded nearly as much. At the same time he saw 50 ounces taken out of the sluices of that claim, which is averaging that amount per day to seven men. On Sunday last over a dozen nuggets were picked up, the smallest weighing two ounces and the largest thirteen ounces.

He says that Coeur d'Alene is no poor man's camp. The gold is covered in most places with about twenty-five feet of dirt and generally is inaccessible on account of water, which cannot be kept out by pumping. The rich claims in Dream gulch, Dry gulch and that vicinity are, however, [illegible] from 50 to 100 feet above the creek alongside the bed of an old stream and cannot be worked for want of water. There are about 3000 people in the mines now, who disburse nearly $100,000 per month. There are three parties engaged in buying dust, and they send out about 8000 ounces per week. This goes principally Montana way. What is needed to bring to this way and secure to our merchants the trade of the district is a road from the Mission to the mines, the only practicable route that exists for a good road. People are now obliged to pass in and out from Montana by a trail which runs over mountains [illegible] feet high. In order that the great wealth lying hidden in the Coeur d'Alene mines may be secured, it will be necessary to drain them, and Mr. Treglohn is now engaged in organizing a company to dig a drain ditch [illegible] feet long, which will cost from $12,000 to $20,000. This will furnish an outlet for the drainage of nine miles of mining claims along Prichard creek.

AMUSEMENTS.

LAWRENCE BARRETT.—Next Tuesday morning Lawrence Barrett, that eminent tragedian, accompanied by a full company, will sail on the State of California for Portland. The season will open at New Market theater on Thursday, Sept. 18. Mr. Barrett will appear on the opening night in his great impersonation of Yorick in "Yorick's Love." This is one of Mr. Barrett's strongest roles, and has been performed by him with remarkable success in all the large cities of the United States and in London.

THE EAST SIDE.

The following East Portlanders returned from Long Beach last evening: Mr. A. H. Breyman and family, Mrs. C. H. Meussdorffer and family, A. K. Colburn and family, Mrs. L. A. Patterson, A. J. Knott and J. H. Hyrnes. The East Portland complement have now all returned from the coast except C. K. DeLure and family, and they will probably return by the next steamer. All return in good health and pleased with their trip, except Mr. Meussdorffer, who was on a business [illegible] visit and returns [illegible]. Mr. Meussdorffer was returning from San Francisco when he heard of the continued sickness of his wife upon arriving at Astoria, and in consequence proceeded to Long Beach, returning with her last evening. Messrs. Knott and Byrnes, who went in quest of game, were successful in capturing a fine elk. The cottages erected on the beach this season have proven very convenient, especially during the recent inclement weather, and many who have heretofore camped in tents contemplate building next year.

Lemuel McIntosh, the farmer lately recently with Denby's circus, had his hand badly mutilated with a butcher knife yesterday while assisting the steward of the Home hotel halve a hog. The knife slipping, cut him between the [illegible] and forefinger, inflicting a deep wound about an inch long, the gash continuing down the palm of the hand about three inches. Dr. Eady attended him.

Gouney's hall has been leased for a skating rink.

Ethel, the little daughter of [illegible], is gradually regaining consciousness.

The water in Sullivan's gulch has fallen three feet as the result of Hawe's ditch.

Lily lodge, I. O. G. T., will hold a sociable at the close of their lodge meeting this evening. A full attendance is desired.

A ripple of excitement—the first since the last circus—was caused yesterday by the exhibition of a brown bear on the streets.

T. B. Boest, having returned to East Portland, has resumed business at his old stand, corner of Fifth and M streets, where he will be glad to see his old customers and as many new ones as may find it convenient to call.

The prospecting party of the Eureka Mining Company—Messrs. H. H. and R. S. Kiessling, Walter Harvel and Peter Kopelding—have returned from a visit to their claims, located forty miles from Vancouver on Calvin creek. They bring good specimens of silver quartz with them, and appear well satisfied with their "prospects."

CADET CENTRAL SCHOOL BUILDING.

PORTLAND, Sept. 12.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

In your issue of September 10 I find a communication regarding the safety of the school children, which is a worthy subject and I for one am glad to see their safety looked after; but had "H. W. A." investigated my part of the matter and obtained facts of the case instead of presumption, whoever "H. W. A." may be, would have found that, instead of great danger from fire in my place, it is just the reverse, as I never keep but a small quantity of oil in store here, and I do not have a fire in either stove or heaters. And as to the patent lamp fillers "H. W. A." speaks of, the same absolutely prevent all danger from accidents by fire or anything ever used for handling coal oil. So I for one feel that "H. W. A." has presumed too much when the great danger from the part of the article in question is applied to me or my business. So I prefer to enter my protest against that part of the communication, and hope "H. W. A." will come forward and investigate my place and he or she will find me ever ready to show the facts in the case.

SATURDAY MORNING, SEPT. 13, 1884

NOT FIT TO BE PRESIDENT.

Because of his Immoral Life, Grover Cleveland Should be Rejected.

New York Independent, August 28.

There is no doubt that supposed availability was the sole reason that controlled the democrats in passing by such men as Messrs. Bayard, Thurman, Randall and others of like stamp and nominating Governor Cleveland as their candidate for president. Their theory was that he would run best and be surest to carry the great state of New York, and especially that he would bring to the party a large accession of republican votes.

It turns out, however, even before the active work of the canvass has fairly begun, that, as to a most vital question of personal morals, the private character of this so-called reform candidate has been one of such rottenness as justly to destroy all claim in his behalf to the confidence and respect of the American people. Whether the members of the democratic convention were acquainted with the facts in his private life when they nominated him, we do not know; but, for their sake, we will assume that if they had known them Mr. Cleveland would not have been the candidate of the democratic party. To nominate such a man with this knowledge would imply a most astounding lack of common sense, and an equal lack of moral and political integrity.

Certain it is that the independent republicans who ignorantly endorsed Mr. Cleveland and publicly declared their purpose to support him did not know the man as the record of his private life has revealed him to be, and which record, by God's lightning voice, has been sent with a flash to every village and hamlet of the nation, and thence to the very ends of the earth. These republicans cannot, in view of what they now know, give him their support without the grossest self-stultification, and, indeed, without justly exposing themselves to the charge of gross and senseless hypocrisy. The simple and plain truth is that the admitted offense of Mr. Cleveland touches upon a domain of family and public morals so vitally and so dangerously to the public good as utterly to disqualify him for the office of president, or any other office in the gift of the people. This is the position the Independent, after a due consideration of the facts and our duty to God and man, took last week, and means sternly to maintain. Any effort to evade this conclusion only makes the duty the more obvious.

If it be said that what is true of Mr. Cleveland is no more than has often been true of other public men, then we reply that it is high time that all public men should be taught that personal and private virtue is not an immaterial question with the people of this country. This lesson should be so emphasized and proclaimed to the world that there will be no mistake now or hereafter as to what is meant by it.

The immoralities of a man's private life are matters which do concern the public, when that public, with the knowledge of these immoralities, is asked to make him the chief magistrate of a great nation. A debauchee, known to be, or to have been such, is not the man to be elevated to the office of president of these United States. This one fact should be fatal to him. The people should not, and, as we believe, will not, so disgrace themselves, in the sight of God and man, and defy the imperative mandate of sound morals as to bestow this honor on any such base profligate. What is our common Christianity worth and what is our boasted civilization worth, if such a black stain in the character of a candidate for the presidency is, in the popular estimate, to be deemed a matter of no special consequence? What a strange spectacle such a lawbreaker, if elected, would present in the parlors of the White House! What an opportunity it would give to Mormon polygamists to sneer and laugh there at the efforts of the general government to suppress the monstrous abominations in the territory of Utah! What a demoralizing lesson it would be to the young men of the country! What a barrier to the successful teaching of morality from the pulpit or political platform or in the halls of congress! All decent people, not to say Christian people, would have to hide their heads with a profound sense of shame and disgust. No! No! the majority of the voters of this country will not and cannot approve of any such beastly and heathenish standard of morality.

POLITICAL DRIFT.

The New York Sun says 100 republicans of Greenwich, Conn., who had decided to vote for Cleveland changed their minds on account of the Halpin scandal.

About 1000 mechanics, one-third of whom have hitherto voted the democratic ticket, have signed an address to vote for Blaine. It is a strong paper, and will no doubt make many converts.

A Maderia, Cal., campaign club, organized primarily in the interests of the democratic party, met with a hitch when the question of a name came up for consideration. A proposition to call it after Cleveland and Hendricks was voted down, and "Blaine and Logan" was substituted by a vote of 23 to 17.

Governor Cleveland's son, Oscar Folsom Cleveland, was born September 14, 1874, and will therefore be 10 years old on the 14th of next month. The Kansas City Journal suggests: "If the governor will give him a birthday party and invite the public generally, there will be an immense gathering."

Republicans of Wisconsin say that Thad Pound's defection will change no republican votes, and in some localities will effect the reverse of what was intended. They laugh at the fulsome praise of Pound in the democratic press, and say that republicans of his district not only refused to return him to congress, but declined to send him as delegate to the Chicago convention.

The New York Times of December 28, 1877, said: "We believe that General Schurz has no claim whatever to public confidence or respect." This is especially true now, when General Schurz is doing his best to help the democrats "sneak back into power," if we may be permitted to adopt the choice language of George William Curtis at the Chicago convention.

A democratic newspaper, speaking of the joint action of the several democratic state committees at the west to circulate campaign literature, says that the documents furnished by the democratic national committee are not adapted to the west, "where different issues exist." It was supposed that the Buffalo "issue" was the only one for which the democratic candidate was to blame, but it appears that this was a mistake.

The Irish World, which is supporting Blaine, gives the following account of mail received by the republican committee: Six Irish workingmen from Cincinnati send $6 and say: "We want Blaine elected. He stood by us in congress and we stand by him. We send $6, and will raise more." A workman from Albany writes: "Enclosed find $3. It is not much, but better than words. The workingmen here are all moving over to Blaine." From Lowell, Mass., a workingman writes: "I feel I ought to give something to help pay the expenses of a party that helps me and my children from free trade. We all work in the factory. I send a dollar and each of my family send a dollar, $9 in all. A good many of the working people will send something after next pay day." An Irish workingman writes: "I can give Blaine my vote and a dollar. Here is the dollar and he will get the vote in November."

Delightful Moral Alternatives.

George W. Green of New York, "secretary of the committee of the republican independents," has been sending circulars to men in all parts of the country inviting them to signify their intention to vote for Cleveland, "purity" and "reform." The following answer was sent by a republican in Indiana:

Sir:—Your assurance that you would be "pleased" to hear from me further is accepted and hereby acted on. As I can not report "personally," I do "by mail."

Your accompanying letter rightly assumes that I am one who desires to secure "clean" as well as "honest politics." One of the "enrollment slips" accompanying your letter affirms, and I agree, that the "paramount issue of the presidential election of this year is moral rather than political." Your other slip will make me assert the belief that "the interests of good government and public morals demand the defeat of James G. Blaine and the election of Grover Cleveland," neither of which do I believe; and here you and I take square issue. Your position, if I can understand it, gives us the following remarkable conclusions:

1. It is admitted on all hands, by friend and foe, that Grover Cleveland is the father of a child, born out of wedlock; but he took care of the baby; therefore, vote for Cleveland. Or,

2.—There are three men mixed up with the one woman, and it was doubtful whose son the child was; but as the other two were married men, to save shame and ruin to their families, Grover generously assumed to be the child's father; therefore, vote for Cleveland. Or,

3.—The woman was only a strumpet, anyway, and no harm was done to her character by Grover's conduct; therefore, vote for Cleveland. Or,

4.—She was a virtuous woman before time, and Grover and the rest ruined her; therefore, vote for Cleveland.

Moral: Young men of America, if any of you are ever overtaken by any youthful indiscretion, which may result in the ruin of some pure woman's virtue, don't go whining around as if some great loss had befallen you, but hold up your head, walk manfully up and take care of the babies; you may be president yet.

"Now, if you can see how you are going to promote "public morals" and secure "clean" politics by voting for Grover Cleveland in these circumstances, you are smarter than I am; I can't. And you need not enrol me with any "republicans" or "independents" who are endeavoring to secure the election of any such character, or doing anything to secure the defeat of Blaine and Logan.

TIT FOR TAT.

"I never saw such a woman in all my life," said Bass; "you are never satisfied with anything." "People who knew the man I took for a husband," replied Mrs. B., "think, on the contrary, that I am very easily satisfied."—Boston Transcript.

Tit for tat, as Fergy thought: Tourist—"How far is it to Berkeley street?" Policeman—"Do you want to ride or walk there?" "I am not particular." "Nedher am I," said the man from the land of agrarian troubles, as he moved away with an air of supreme indifference.—Boston Globe.

Matrimonial: "I hear Gall Fisher, who left here a few months ago, is married and living in Indianapolis. Did he marry well?" "Oh, yes; he married well. He was well when he married." "No joking. I mean did he get a good start by marrying?" "Oh, yes; he got a good start—he married a widow with seven children."—Kentucky State Journal.

A bluff, outspoken old gentleman, who had lost several wives and had married yet again, all some years back, was asked by some one who knew his blunt way of speaking, "Mr. A——, you have had some experience, tell us which of your wives you liked the best." Without waiting an instant he said in his gruff, growling way, "The live one, of course."

Small talking parrots are the favorite pet birds of young ladies this season, and the dealers are teaching them to say, "kiss me, darling." In a commercial way, which insures a rapid sale for them. A dealer made a mistake the other day, and trotted out an old green parrot that was small and meek-looking, but—oh my! When a young lady and her beau called, and the bird was solicited to say something sweet to the pretty lady, she rolled one eye knowingly and croaked out, "I ain't as —— green as I look!" The moment he takes sick his small income will stop, and you know he does not look very robust." "You forget, pa, that only last week you were examining mortality [illegible], and you said that 'literary men, as a rule, [illegible] long-lived.'" "True, I had forgotten that. TRADE AND COMMERCE.

FRIDAY, Sept. 12.

A light fog came up last night, and to-day is clear but cool. The eastern section reports clear weather also. No doubt we shall enjoy a season of rest from rains.

Overland receipts include 5 cs lard, 2 cts hams, 1 cs cigars, 1 cs cigarettes, 25 bxs tin.

The week under review has been one of more than ordinary interest in more ways than one. A continuation of the slow movement in leading products has prevented trade improvement, and merchants are unable to gather in money on old accounts or obtain settlements for new purchases. Meantime orders from the interior come steadily in and must be filled in anticipation of compensation later on. A number of failures are noted, and they include dealers in other than the general merchandise lines. This shows the depression extends to almost all branches of trade and industry. Defalcations are also reported, but they have occasioned small loss to legitimate trade. At the east the depression is less severely expressed, yet failures are only too common. As the grain trade increases in volume money becomes easier. California already experiences this, but our own state has yet the beginning to make. Another month, at the least, must elapse before we can enjoy any decided improvement in this way. In the week we have been allowed but a few hours of sunshine, for showers have fallen every day. At times a perfect downpour of rain was experienced, delaying the wind up of harvest and catching many a field of grain yet uncut. Threshing has been practically suspended, farmers being employed in saving wheat in shock. The amount yet to be harvested is variously stated to be from 10 to 25 per cent. of the crop. Doubtless 15 per cent. is nearer the mark. Rains in July delayed the maturement of grain, and but a month of favorable harvest weather has been had. Valley crops at the middle of August were so conditioned as to lead to the conclusion that a harvest of unusual magnitude would be had and there was every reason for that conclusion. Heavy rains, with the incoming of September are out of the ordinary experience, harvest being generally over before fall rains begin. The exposure of grain at this time is due to no dilatoriness on the part of the farmer. Probably a larger percentage of the oat crop is yet out than wheat, but that cereal is not likely to suffer as much as wheat. All this serves to dampen general trade and delays the movement towards selling centers. A limited export demand for wheat, combined with low values, has prevented the usual activity. The action of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company in furnishing a lower freight tariff on grain over their line is commendable. Enjoying the certainty of sooner or later moving the entire crop contiguous to their lines, they have practically given the grower 5 cents per cental. It was announced that the cut was made in order to stimulate shipments, the reduction affecting shipments prior to October 15 only. By that time, if the road is not controlled by new hands, its managers will doubtless see the necessity of continuing the $5 tariff. The new Northern Pacific eastward rate fails to arouse any serious fears of our losing business. Were there markets for the wheat this side of the old world it would be different. Trade papers continue to divide their space between the unprecedented low wheat values and the general trade depression. Pages of comparisons and probable causes are presented, and of course the bulling element is active. Meanwhile the grower must at least dispose of enough to pay harvest expenses. All trade circles earnestly wish the political situation at another end of the world, and place little hope in improvement prior to November, when the status of the grain trade will be more clearly defined and winter trade developed.

About the middle of August we had occasion to write of the discoloration of wheat in some parts of the Willamette valley. At the time the location of fields so affected was given as nearly as possible, and it was plainly stated that only a small percentage of the entire crop was so affected. By this time samples have reached the British markets, and soon a reply may be expected. To-day we were told that the damage had been greatly enlarged upon, and British buyers are chary about buying our wheat, as they fear it to be unmerchantable. Of course, the buyer abroad has unlimited varieties to select from, so he can afford to be particular, and any talk of off color or softness makes him offish about buying. While this condition has not as yet interfered with the movement of our wheat, it may later on occasion some trouble in prompt selling. Wheat is sold on a general quality average and as samples reach England cargoes are sold on these samples. By the time our wheat is ready for active movement the off color scare will be thoroughly scattered and in the end it may add strength to the value of best grades.

Overland receipts include 220 bxs soap, 100 cs lye, 100 cs canned goods, 50 cs lard, 3 ctes 25 cs hams, 20 pkgs tobacco, 600 cs coal oil, 750 kgs nails, 65 bbls 50 cs bottled beer, 90 kgs horse shoes.

FREIGHTS—The Juniter comes under prior charter to Sibson, Church & Co. The Kate F. Troop is preparing for cargo, but her exact business cannot be determined for a month. The impression prevails that she must go on the market if freights do not advance. The San Francisco market is easy at 42s 6d for iron. Press dispatches yesterday were evidently sent on old information, as the Nereus has been under charter for some time.

A New Zealand (Christ church) circular of 1st August reports a slow grain movement for July with the loading of berth freights a tedious process. In the total absence of demand for tonnage foreign freights are nominal, with rates to London quoted at 30s. Vessels were departing for Batavia and Sourabaya in ballast. Rainfall for the latter part of July was greater than at any time since the beginning of winter, but was not excessive. On the whole the winter had been bright, dry and frosty to the great benefit of farmers.

WHEAT—Advices continue of about the same character as had for some time. There is no improvement in any direction. On spot there is next to nothing doing, but interior advices report sales at $1 12½ here for valley. Holders are firm, few expressing a willingness to accept less than this. While shippers name but $1 02½ for Walla Walla no sales at this are reported. At $1 05@1 07½ business would result.

OATS—Few offering at any price and trade is altogether of a hand to mouth character. We quote 30@35c on spot, 28@30c future delivery.

FRUIT—Fair business doing at old values. The Oregon will be due late to morrow, but arrivals cannot be handled before Monday.

PROVISIONS—Each day brings new arrivals of eastern, which are sold up close at full prices.

EGGS—Arrivals show a slight increase, but 30c was had to-day without difficulty.

CHICKENS—Market steady at last quotations.

The Merchandise Market.

Incoming steamer freights show some increase and a wider distribution. Interior dealers are receiving winter stocks, the smallness of assortments telling of close trading. By rail the usual receipts are had, but as some lines that are imported this way are in lessened movement locally, the aggregate of rail arrivals is lessened. The Alpheta is discharging a general cargo from London, mostly coal, which comes to an overloaded market. In return for what is being received little is being sent out, and the trade balance is largely against us. Concerning salts there is little to report. Early in the week coal oil was advanced one cent by the agencies. Rice is in good movement with Island quoted down. Canned fruits are closely dealt in, California canners being busy on late kinds and not pressing business. Salt is lower, although recent arrivals of Liverpool are moving quickly, values being affected by promise of large supplies.

A review of last week's San Francisco market says: An improved condition of trade is reported this week, slight as yet, but affording relief for the present and encouragement for the future. The money which has been distributed throughout the country in the harvesting, purchasing and movement of crops, is now finding its way back to the city through the regular avenues of trade, and great inducements are held out to interior merchants in the purchasing of fall and winter goods, by reason of the extreme low prices ruling and the certainty [illegible] heavy stocks of merchandise of every description [illegible] on which holders are [illegible] [illegible]. All China, black and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] at harbor [illegible] Japanese [illegible] [illegible] grades. Two ironmongers' wives, straying about the Musée des Antiques, gazed with disgust at the legless Apollos, the noseless Jupiters, the armless Venuses, and the other mutilated statues that compose the collection. One of the women addressed the guardian: "Say, monsieur, where are the double-headed children?" "There are none here, madame." "Indeed! Well, this is the worst stocked museum of human monstrosities I ever saw!" And the ironmonger's wife made a dignified exit with her husband.

Husband Hunting.

The following "results" are derived from the experience of an English lady of good social position, but limited means, who for several years has been taking "efforts" to trees of husbands to watering places during the season. DR. PAUL M. BRENAN

IS THE MOST SUCCESSFUL PHYSICIAN ON the Pacific coast in the treatment of all Chronic and Difficult Diseases of the Sexual Organs.

He will guarantee to cure any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease, if the patient follows his advice and treatment.

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the FOLLIES OF YOUTH, such as Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, or Loss of Perfect Vitality. Nearly two-thirds of all the chronic diseases spring either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by a majority of the Medical Profession.

Persons afflicted by any form of sexual disease or weakness often delay in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitution becomes corrupted, their organization broken down, and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence. Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances. Lost manhood perfectly restored.

Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint and all diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail, if they are curable, and if not, he will tell you so.

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.

Office—Nos. 152 and 154 Third street, corner of Alder, opposite Masonic Hall.

Office Hours—10 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 P. M.
